Seventy percent of the 373 U.S. in-house legal professionals who responded to the survey said their top goal was to be better aligned with business functions.

Yet according to respondents, 58% of cross-functional partners say legal slows down projects and 41% say legal is too risk-averse.

The State of Collaboration in Corporate Legal Departments

Sponsored by the Association of Corporate Counsel and Everlaw

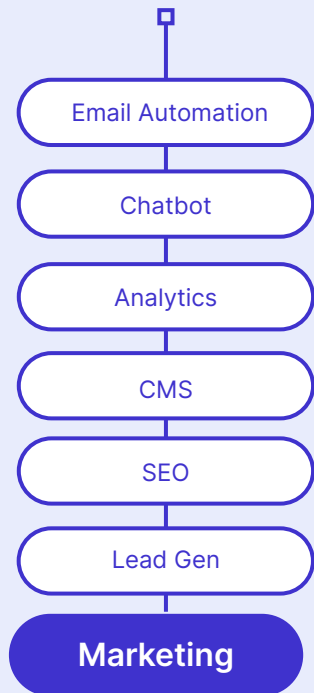

Legal teams turn to a patchwork of tools like spreadsheets, email, and instant messaging to manage intake.

It's difficult to effectively triage work and report on team impact without a centralized tool.

When it comes to technology, legal has been left behind.
